

What is CS2?

Common Soul/Sole (CS2) is an opportunity for young adults to live and work in an intentional Christian community at Calvin Center. The program provides nine months of work and community for young adults ages 19-29. During these months CS2 participants will be exposed to a variety of ministry experiences on site at Calvin Center and in local partner congregations. These experiences in addition to intentional community gatherings and personal reflection time help to guide the discernment process.

"There can be no vulnerability without risk; there can be no community without vulnerability; there can be no peace, and ultimately no life without community."

M. Scott Peck

"Q & A" About CS2

What does a typical work week look like for CS2 participants?

There are three main aspects CS2 participants will find themselves involved with during a typical week: service to Calvin Center, partnership with a local congregation, and reflection time. (Please visit www.calvincenter.org more information on this topic)

How do I financially support myself during the year? Am I responsible for raising funds?

Through Calvin Center and contributions from our partner churches, participants are provided with a weekly stipend, free meals in the dining center (when groups are present), an additional food allowance, and free room and board.

Would I be responsible for my own housing?

Absolutely not. CS2 has a strong focus on developing Christian community. In order to facilitate this objective, participants spend the nine-month term living together on Calvin Center property in Staff Lodge. This free standing house consists of four (two-person occupancy) bedrooms with a common area, kitchenette and 548 acres of surrounding beauty.

When can I become a part of CS2?

Each year, we begin a new class of CS2 running from early September until late May (essentially the length of a school year).

Where, and what, is Calvin Center?

Located just 30 minutes south of Atlanta, GA, Calvin Center serves as the camp and conference center for the Presbytery of Greater Atlanta.
